

Emergency Wound Care After a Disaster PSA (:30)

This is an important message from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Apply first aid to treat cuts and scrapes and prevent infection. To care for a bleeding cut, put pressure on it until the bleeding has stopped. Clean the wound by gently pouring clean tap or bottled water over it. Next, apply a clean, dry bandage. If you think the cut is infected, get medical help as soon as possible.
